CONTENTMENT. BY MRS. M. A. KIDDER.

"My little world is very small, Scarce worth your notice, sir, at all," The mother said. My good, kind husband, as you see, And those three children at my knee Who look to us so trustingly For daily bread.

"For their sweet sakes, who love me so, I keep the firelight in a glow, In our dear home. That though the tempests roar outside And fiereely threaten far and wide,

The cheery biase may serve to guide Dear feet that roam, We welcome him who daily toils For us each day. Of true love kisses full a score He gets, I'm certain, if not more, When fond ones meet him at the door,

At twilight gray. "One gets the slippers for his feet, Another leads him to his seut—

The big arm chair-And while the children round him sing, And make the dear old rafters ring, One little daughter crowns him king With blossoms fair.

"Ah, sir, we are not rich or great, The owners of a vast estate," The mother said; "But we have better far than gold Contentment, and a little fold As full of love as it can held, With daily bread "
